Stralsund

1. Five thousand Russians, including marines, engineers, and MP's, are stationed in Stralsund. The marines carry on sea patrol, the engineer troops load ships with factory goods, and the MP's are engaged in guard and patrol duties.
2. Captain Wisinski is in charge of the marines who are said to number 900. The engineering troops, reported to number 2,500, are under the command of Colonel Hankowski, a careful and conscientious officer. A MVD Commissioner named Obetrokov, a thoroughly disliked man, is in charge of the MP's, who must not only patrol the entire area but agitate for Communism as well.

Putgarten

3. It is reported that there are approximately 300 MP's stationed in Putgarten near Rugen to guard the technicians who are experimenting with V-2 and V-3 weapons. Since the inhabitants have been evacuated, only soldiers, technicians, and a few special laborers occupy the town. Some of the technicians are said to be torpedo experts.
4. The entire town has been blocked-off by a barbed wire fence which is equipped with alarms.
